<td>Abstract</td>
<td>The Bertha Goodison Hall materials includes floorplans and elevations, as well as a brick collected when Goodison Hall was dismantled in 1998. Goodison Residence Hall and King Residence Hall were among the first dormitories built on Eastern Michigan's campus with Works Progress Administration labor in the late 1930s. Constructed as women's housing, Goodison and King Halls were designed in the shape of two opposing Us, creating the first two-room dormitory suites in the state with each suite including a bedroom with an adjoining study. Goodison was dismantled in 1998 to make way for the Everett L. Marshall Building.</td>
